European platform for classification of Skills, Competences, Occupations and Qualifications goes live

The Commission has launched the first full version of the European classification of Skills, Competences, Occupations and Qualifications (ESCO). The classification is available in 26 languages (the 24 EU languages, Icelandic and Norwegian).

ESCO facilitates the employment and qualification matching between language learning organisations and the European labour market. It is a key instrument for the development of the European Skills Agenda. For more information about ESCO, visit ESCO.
